4th Sunday of Lent

Dear Sisters and Brothers,

This Sunday's Gospel about the Prodigal Son, is one of the better known parables of Jesus. It is very much a part of the Christian culture and mentality, accounting for the inter generational conflict of perceptions and misjudgment of the younger generations. If only we could learn and discuss that parable on regular basis in the Church and in our homes, maybe we would avoid many troubles of "lost" kids, disappointed parents, conflicted families.

This parable is so realistic and true about our life and it's resemblance to aspects of each family life, that it is always in some way regarding the dynamics that happen in our homes.

This parable is named after the younger son's actions in it, but it could be named after two others as well. It could be named after the older son and it could be called: "The Resentful Son"; or even better it could be named after the father from the story and it could be called: "The parable of the Forgiving Father", depending on which person we give the importance and centrality of role in the story. Ultimately we realize, that it is the parable about the Loving Merciful Father.

All three persons actions, reactions, perception of reality of their own, differs greatly even if they live in the same home, this same family, same time. But based on each one's account of it, it looks like three different realities. They lived and shared this same events, same place and time, yet their perception and judgment about it, differed greatly. We can ask ourselves why is it that way? What makes the younger son so rebellious as to run away from his father? His pride and greed push him to make this arrogant request from his father for sharing the inheritance, now, as if he wished that the father was dead already. Than after his wish is fulfilled in his intemperance and lust he squanders all he has.

Suffering hunger and want, he realizes how good it was in his father's house where he had everything what he needed. Out of pity for himself, he sets on his way back to beg forgiveness of his father, wishing to become a hired worker in his father's home.

At his return, with a prepared act of contrition his father surprises him with a merciful and generous welcome, giving him back his lost dignity of a son. The father is overwhelmed with great joy at his son's return. But the father's joy is interrupted again by the attitude and actions of the older son, who despises his younger brother and accuses his father of not appreciating his previous loyalty and cooperation. His resentments and misjudgment show his jealousy and anger come out towards not only his brother from whom he distances himself by calling him "your son" as if they were not brothers, and as if he had no father either. What happened to the older son that he is resentful of his brother and his father? Why this low self esteem and blindness of heart towards the love of the father, who again shows great openness of heart and affirmation of total love for both of his sons, even in their brokenness and limitations.

The father's love surpasses all human brokenness and limits. His mercy heals and restores, if only the sons accept with humility how wrong they were in judging their father and misinterpreting his love for them.

This attitude of the father shows the depth of love of God himself who never tires of loving his children with love that: nourishes, gives life, forgives and shows mercy and saves. Love never fails !

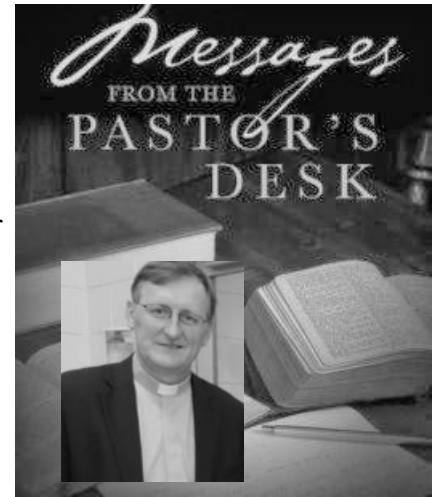

Let us learn to love as God loves, and that will help us to become the best version of ourselves sought in us by God's generous love.

This lent, let us learn about ourselves and what is it that holds us back from loving ourselves as God does, what holds us back from loving others, and what holds us back from loving God above all things ???

Jesus is thirsting for your friendship and love. Let us correspond to it.

God bless everyone always !!!

Fr. Stan

Queridas Hermanas y Hermanos,

El Evangelio de este Domingo El Hijo Prodigio, es una de las parábolas mas conocidas de Jesús. Es una parte muy importante de la cultura cristiana y mental, explicando el conflicto intergeneracional de percepciones y el mal juicio de las generaciones mas jóvenes. Si pudiéramos aprender y discutir esa parábola regularmente en la Iglesia y en nuestros hogares, tal vez evitaríamos muchos problemas de niños "perdidos". Padres decepcionados, familias en conflicto. Esta parábola es tan realista y verdadera acerca de nuestra vida y se asemeja a los aspectos de cada vida familiar, que siempre es de alguna manera con respecto a las dinámicas que ocurren en nuestros hogares.

Esta parábola lleva en nombre de las acciones del hijo menor en ella, pero también podría tener el nombre de otras dos. Podría tener el nombre del hijo mayor y podría llamarse: "El Hijo Resentido"; o incluso mejor, podría nombrarse como el padre de la historia y podría llamarse: La parábola del Padre Perdonador", dependiendo de que persona da la importancia y centralidad del papel en la historia. En ultima instancia, nos damos cuenta de que es la parábola sobre el amoroso Padre Misericordioso.

Las acciones de la tres personas, las reacciones, la percepción de la realidad propia, difieren enormemente incluso si viven en el mismo hogar, esta misma familia, al mismo tiempo. Pero basado en la cuenta de cada uno, parece tres realidades diferentes. Ellos vivieron y compartieron estos mismos eventos, el mismo lugar y el mismo tiempo, pero su percepción y juicio al respecto diferían enormemente. Podemos preguntarnos porque es así? ¿Qué hace que el hijo menor sea tan rebelde como para huir de su padre? Su orgullo y su codicia lo empujan a hacer esta arrogante petición de su padre para compartir la herencia, ahora, como si deseara que el padre ya estuviera muerto. Después de que su deseo se cumple en su intemperancia y lujuria, el desperdicia todo lo que tiene. Al sufrir hambre y deseos, se da cuenta de lo bueno que era en la casa de su padre, donde tenia todo lo que necesitaba. Sin compasión por si mismo, se pone en camino para pedir perdón a su padre, deseando convertirse en un trabajador contratado en la casa de su padre.

A su regreso, con un acto de arrepentimiento preparado, su padre lo sorprende con una bienvenida misericordiosa y generosa, dándole Le devolvió su perdida dignidad de un hijo. El padre esta abrumado de gran alegría por el regreso de su hijo.

Pero la alegría y la alegría del padre se ven nuevamente interrumpidas por la actitud y las acciones del hijo mayor, quien desprecia a su hermano menor y acusa a su padre de no apreciar su lealtad y cooperación anteriores. Sus resentimientos y juicios erróneos muestran que sus celos y su ira se manifiestan no solo hacia su hermano bético, de quien se aleja, llamándolo "su hijo" como si no fueran hermanos, y como si el tampoco tuviera padre. ¿Qué le sucedió al hijo mayor que el esta resentido con su hermano y su padre? ¿Por qué esta baja autoestima y ceguera de corazón hacia el amor del padre, quien nuevamente muestra una gran apertura de corazón y una afirmación de amor total por sus dos hijos, incluso en su quebrantamiento y limitaciones? El amor del padre supera todo quebrantamiento y limites humanos. Su misericordia sana y restaura, solo si los hijos aceptan con humildad lo equivocados que estaban al juzgar a su padre y malinterpretar su amor por ellos.

Esta actitud del padre muestra la profundidad del amor de Dios mismo, quien nunca se cansa de amar a sus hijos con amor que: nutre, da vida, perdona, muestra misericordia y salva. ¡El amor nunca falla! Aprendamos a amar como Dios ama, y eso nos ayudara a convertirnos en la mejor versión de nosotros mismos buscados en nosotros por el generoso amor de Dios.

Con esto, aprendamos sobre nosotros mismos y que es lo que nos impide amarnos a nosotros mismos como Dios lo hace, lo que nos impide amar a los demás y lo que nos impide amar a Dios por encima de todo. Jesús esta sediento de tu amistad y amor. Correspondamos a ello.

Dios bendiga a todos siempre!!!

P. Stan.

“To those whom much is given,
much is expected.” Luke 12:48

Come hear of Bob’s personal journey being diagnosed with Neuroendocrine (NET) cancer and how with the power of prayer quite literally, miraculously, disappeared. What happen then was a miracle. Come hear how the power of prayer continues to heal Bob, diagnosis after diagnosis, he has turn to God and the POWER OF PRAYER, and oncologists have stated that after thoroughly reviewing all the scientific evidence and exhausting their extensive knowledge, they reached the conclusion that what happened was, indeed, “an act of God...a miracle.”
